FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Holland releases new Mobile Communications and Command Module video demonstration thanks to the Glenwood Fire Department.

April 10, 2017 – Crete, IL Holland's Mobile Communication and Command Module provides emergency/disaster recovery; temporary, long-term and emergency communications; surveillance; and security.

Recently, Holland created a demonstration video showing the Module in action with the help of the Glenwood (IL) Fire Department. On a cold, sunny March morning Glenwood Fire Department lent their equipment, services and employees to Holland's Marketing Department so that they could capture a mock emergency scenario. The new video illustrates the many features, benefits and customizable options of the Mobile Communications and Command Module.
